To Whom It May Concern:

I am providing this letter as a recommendation for Wendy Rasmussen. As her college professor, I found Wendy very knowledgeable in the areas of business and marketing. She displayed a wide range of skills while building a record of outstanding performance on her coursework.

Through the time I've spent as her advisor and instructor, I watched as her understanding in the field expanded and her academic accomplishments became examples for other students to follow.

Wendy is confident in her work and her diligence is strong, which is a great addition for any organization looking to meet its objectives and support overall organizational growth.

I recommend Wendy and I'm confident she will make a strong addition to your organization. Please feel free to contact me if you have questions regarding her character or previous academic work.

Sincerely,
